NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE news of the failure of the Russian wheat crop is confirmed. The scheme of European nations to shut American wheat out of their markets unless we cut down our tariff is postponed for another year.

JOHN R. DUNN, a New York lawyer, was taken to state prison yesterday for nine and a half years. Dunn advised Cashier Scott of the Bank of Manhattan to steal $185,000 of the bank's cash, and took most of the money from Scott.

The tonnage of the canal for the third week in July shows an increase of 3,751 tons when compared with the corresponding time last year. —Buffalo Express.

It is now in order for the Democratic newspapers to rise again and remark upon the paralysis of business which has followed a change of administration.

The sale of the Minneapolis flouring mills to an English syndicate has not taken place and the option is off. The owners are ready for further negotiations, however. It is a little singular that this syndicate buys nothing, but is constantly making stupendous offers.

The Chinese Yellow river has again burst its banks, and drowned more of the inhabiitants than can be computed. China is deficient in engineering skill, and is going to call for foreign aid. Her dense population needs better protection. It is a very insignificant washout that does not drown a few thousand.

NEW JERSEY is not the only state that has a legal rod in pickle for common scolds. In Philadelphia a long forgotten statute has been dug up, and four scolding women placed under bonds of $500 each to hold their tongues.

If this sort of reform is to spread farther it will probably be effectual in building up a woman's rights party. For woman will never give up her prerogative to scold a little—never.

CHICAGO'S annexation fever is likely to develop it of milk. Four wealthy dairy farmers of Jefferson, who kept large herds of cows, now find themselves within the city limits, where it is forbidden by the code to keep a herd of more than three cows. These farmers were fined yesterday. If Chicago continues to extend its limits it will either have to abolish its anti-cow law or take its coffee straight.

A VERY wide inquiry by the Chattanooga

Tradesman in regard to negro labor in the South brings out the fact that unskilled negro labor averages $1.10 a day and skilled labor runs from $1.75 to $2.25 a day. There is no difference between whites and blacks in the same class of work. The astounding fact is admitted that in common employments the negro is more useful and reliable than the "poor white trash."

REV. E. CLARENCE WOODMAN, a Paulist

Father of New York, has issued a prayer book adapted to American ideas, with the approval of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Corrigan. The Roman missal, with orders for vespers, preparation for the sacrament, daily prayers, and a summary of doctrine, is translated into English. It will supply a long felt want, and furnish a new incentive to the acquisition of an education.

MARY BRADY, who was convicted in Jersey City last week of being a common scold, has been let off with a fine of $25 and costs, and $175. Judge Patterson in sentencing her spoke affectionately of the ducking stool.

such arrangements at this late day." Mrs.

Brady thinks, however, that she has paid a

A ROYAL MARRIAGE IN ENGLAND.

Princess Louise Victoria Alexander Dagmar

And the Earl of Fife Wedded.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, July 27.—Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise Victoria Alexander Dagmar, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, was married at noon to-day to Alexander

William George, Earl of Fife and a Knight of the Thistle. The weather was unpropitious, as rain was falling. The ceremony took place in the Private Chapel of Buckingham Palace. This was the first marriage that ever took place in the Chapel, which is small, and the number of guests was not large. The bride and groom arrived privately. The Prince of Wales, Crown Prince of Denmark, the King of Greece, Prince Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales assembled in the bow library of Buckingham Palace at 11:45 o'clock and there awaited the arrival of the Queen from her private apartments. The bride party, consisting of the Prince of Wales, Princess Louise and the Princesses

Victoria and Maud of Wales, left Marlborough House, the residence of the Prince of Wales, at 11:40 o'clock for Buckingham Palace. Notwithstanding the rain the route to the Palace was crowded with spectators. There was a vast concourse of people opposite the Palace. The Prince of Wales was enthusiastically cheered. On the arrival in the bow library of the Queen, who was accompanied by the Grand Duke of Hesse, the procession to the Chapel was formed. It comprised the Queen, the Members of Royal Family, who had gathered in the library, the King of Greece, the Crown Prince of Denmark and other guests and officers of the Royal Household. The procession on its way to the Chapel passed through several Royal apartments, in which many of the guests who had found it impossible to enter the Chapel were seated. Upon reaching the Chapel the Queen was escorted to a seat prepared for her while the other persons took seats on either side of the altar. The Prince of Wales, in a Highland costume and wearing the garter of the duff, accompanied by his groomsmen, Horace Farquhar, took his position at the altar and awaited the coming of his bride. The Princess of Wales, with the bride and Princesses Victoria and Maud, of Wales, Princess Louise, of Schleswig-Holstein; Princess Victoria, of Schleswig-Holstein; Princess Helena Gleichen; and Countess Helen Gleichen. The bride party then proceeded to the Chapel. The bride was in a white chiffon dress of duchesse satin with a flowing train. It was trimmed with orange blossoms. She also wore a wreath of orange blossoms and point d'azur veil. The bridesmaids wore dresses of blue pink faille, and carried bouquets of pink roses. The bridesmaids were the Princesses Victoria and Maud, of Wales; Princess Louise, of Schleswig-Holstein; Princess Victoria, of

They Are Absolutely Under Control of Chiefs

—A Council Held Yesterday.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dak., July 27.—

The first Council was held here yesterday afternoon. John Grass, Gaul and other prominent Chiefs and a large number of Indians were present. After preliminary remarks

Agent McLaughlin introduced the Commissioners. Governor Forster made the customary explanation of the bill. The Indians were followed by Major Warner. The Indians listened with close attention, but gave no evidence of interest in the matters discussed. At the close of the Council, however, it was announced that 15 beavers would be killed, and the Council continued which followed with reference to details the Indians were thoroughly interested, and finally all the Chiefs shook hands with Major Warner. The next Council will be Monday.

From conversation with many persons more or less acquainted with the Indians it is believed that for some weeks they have been talking the matter over, and it is said they have found themselves not to accept the Government's proposition. As at Cheyenne the police force is practically unanimous in opposition. Many of the employees are either mixed bloods, or men who have been for years incorporated in the tribe. All these men are believed to be using their influence to the same effect. In spite of all efforts of the Government the Indians are still in all matters affecting their general interests controlled by the wishes and advice of their Chiefs. Many of these men are of more than average ability, industrious and progressive, and have for many years been successful in the pursuit of their various occupations.

The wedding gifts to the Princess Louise are worth $750,000. The Earl of Fife, whom she weds, has an income of $500,000 a year and 20,000 acres of land on which to raise the family vegetables, fruits, bread-stuffs and meat. Parliament will vote the Prince of Wales, an additional income of $180,000, one-half of which is to go to the bride. Altogether the newly wedded pair seem to be "pretty well fixed." They have our congratulations.

THE American Consul at Kingston, Canada, should resign and return home at once. His son may be insane, but when his insanity prompts him to enter the house of a worthy citizen as a burglar, blind and gag a servant, and shoot at the mistress and beat her over the head with a revolver, his father becomes freighted with family cares that should induce him to give up a responsible position. Consul Twitchell undoubtedly feels the embarrassments of his position.

THERE appears to have been some mistake about the rumor that Mr. Cleveland was going to stump Ohio for the Democratic state ticket this fall. His best party friends cast doubt upon it. We distinctly remember that when Mr. Cleveland went West in his "swing around the circle" in 1888, he rode through Ohio in the night, the train not even making its usual stop at Columbus, where Gov. Foraker resides. The ex-President can never forget the terror of that night, lest some accident should compel him to alight from the train, and bring him in contact with a Buckeye Republican.

IN Chico, California, Miss Eva Adkins was to have wedded Raymond Bierce last Monday. On Sunday she eloped with Neil Hubbs, who was to have been the best man at the wedding, and married him. The elopers returned the next day, and on Thursday made a call upon the bride's mother, Mrs. Barney Bierce, had heard of the intended visit, and reached the house ahead of them. When they arrived he rushed into the room and began shooting at Hubbs and his bride. Hubbs returned the shots, and after each had fired four times ran out of the room. Bierce then shot the bride in the head, but the wound is not dangerous. Hubbs returned and knocked Bierce down with his revolver. The latter then crawled out of the room and shot himself dead. Hubbs is shot through the abdomen and is likely to leave a widow. The bloodiest section of Kentucky can hardly boast of a livelier tragedy, and all because a foolish girl did not know her own mind.

In the first place, the Cherokee don't want to sell to anybody, and in the second place their Constitution forbids any such transactions." General Ross, leader of the opposition party, has several articles of impeachment against Mays ready to present to the next Council.

WHITE EARTH AGENCY, Minn., July 27.—It seems certain that the great White Earth reservation of 3,000,000 acres will not be opened this year. Commissioners Rice, Marly and Whiting are discouraged over the outlook. The Indians have taken a decided stand against opening any portion of the reservation to settlement. There have been several stormy meetings. The Commission has not secured a signature.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE news of the failure of the Russian wheat crop is confirmed. The scheme of European nations to shut American wheat out of their markets unless we cut down our tariff is postponed for another year.

JOHN R. DUNK, a New York lawyer, was taken to state prison yesterday for nine and a half years. Dunn advised Cashier Scott of the Bank of Manhattan to steal $185,000 of the bank's cash, and took most of the money from Scott.

The tonnage of the canals for the third week in July shows an increase of 3,754 tons when compared with the corresponding time last year.—Buffalo Express.

It is now in order for the Democratic newspapers to rise again and remark upon the paralysis of business which has followed a change of administration.

The sale of the Minneapolis flouring mills to an English syndicate has not taken place and the option is off. The owners are ready for further negotiations, however. It is a little singular that this syndicate buys nothing, but is constantly making stupendous offers.

The Chinese Yellow river has again burst its banks, and drowned more of the inhabitants than can be computed. China is deficient in engineering skill, and is going to call for foreign aid. Her dense population needs better protection. It is a very insignificant washout that does not drown a few thousand.

NEW JERSEY is not the only state that has a legal rod in pickle for common scolds. In Philadelphia a long forgotten statute has been dug up, and four scolding women placed under bonds of $500 each to hold their tongues. If this sort of reform is to spread farther it will probably be effectual in building up a woman's rights party. For woman will never give up her prerogative to scold a little—never.

CHICAGO'S annexation fever is likely to deprive it of milk. Four wealthy dairy farmers of Jefferson, who kept large herds of cows, now find themselves within the city limits, where it is forbidden by the code to keep a herd of more than three cows. These farmers were fined yesterday. If Chicago continues to extend its limits it will either have to abolish its anti-cow law or take its coffee straight.

A VERY big inquiry by the Chattanooga Tradesman in regard to negro labor in the South brings out the fact that unskilled negro labor averages $1.10 a day and skilled labor runs from $1.75 to $2.25 a day. There is no difference between whites and blacks in the same class of work. The astounding fact is admitted that in common employments the negro is more useful and reliable than the "poor white trash."

REV. E. CLARENCE WOODMAN, a Paulist Father of New York, has issued a prayer book adapted to American ideas, with the approval of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Corrigan. The Roman missal, with orders for vespers, preparation for the sacrament, daily prayers, and a summary of doctrine, is translated into English. It will supply a long felt want, and furnish a new incentive to the acquisition of an education.

MARY BRADY, who was convicted in Jersey City last week of being a common scold, has been let off with a fine of $25 and costs, in all $75. Judge Patterson in sentencing her spoke affectionately of the ducking stool.

"I am sorry," he said, "that we have no such arrangements at this late day." Mrs. Brady thinks, however, that she has paid a dearer price for her fun than she can afford again, and will put her tongue under discipline.

The wedding gifts to the Princess Louise are worth $750,000. The Earl of Life, whom she wed, has an income of $500,000 a year and 20,000 acres of land on which to raise the family vegetables, fruits, bread-stuffs and meat. Parliament will vote the Princess of Wales an additional income of $180,000, one-half of which is to go to the bride. Altogether the newly wedded pair seem to be "pretty well fixed." They have our congratulations.

THE American Consul at Kingston, Canada, should resign and return home at once. His son may be insane, but when his insanity prompts him to enter the house of a worthy citizen as a burglar, blind and gag a servant, and shoot at the mistress and beat her over the head with a revolver, his father becomes freighted with family cares that should induce him to give up a responsible position. Consul Twitchell undoubtedly feels the embarrassments of his position.

THERE appears to have been some mistake about the rumor that Mr. Cleveland was going to stump Ohio for the Democratic state ticket this fall. His best party friends cast doubt upon it. We distinctly remember that when Mr. Cleveland went West in his "swing around the circle" in 1883, he rode through Ohio in the night, the train not even making its usual stop at Columbus, where Gov. Foraker resides. The ex-President can never forget the terror of that night, lest some accident should compel him to alight from the train, and bring him in contact with a Buckeye Republican.

In Chico, California, Miss Eva Adkins was to have wedded Raymond Bierce last Monday. On Sunday she eloped with Neil Hubbs, who was to have been the best man at the wedding, and married him. The elopers returned the next day, and on Thursday made a call upon the bride's mother, Mrs. Barney. Bierce had heard of the intended visit, and reached the house ahead of them. When they arrived he rushed into the room and began shooting at Hubbs and his bride. Hubbs returned the shots, and after each had fired four times ran out of the room. Bierce then shot the bride in the head, but the wound is not dangerous. Hubbs returned and knocked Bierce down with his revolver. The latter then crawled out of the room and shot himself dead. Hubbs is shot through the abdomen and is likely to leave a widow. The bloodiest case of Kentucky can hardly boast of a livelier tragedy, and all because a foolish girl did not know her own mind.

A ROYAL MARRIAGE IN ENGLAND.

Princess Louise Victoria Alexandra Dagmar And the Earl of Life Wedded.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, July 27.—Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise Victoria Alexandra Dagmar, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, was married at noon to-day to Alexander William George, Earl of Life and a Knight of the Thistle. The ceremony took place in the Private Chapel of Buckingham Palace. This was the first marriage that ever took place in the Chapel, which is small, and the number of guests was not large. The bride and groom arrived privately. The Prince of Wales, Crown Prince of Denmark, the King of Greece, Prince Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales assembled in the Bow Library of Buckingham Palace at 11:45 o'clock and there awaited the arrival of the Queen from her private apartments. The bride party, consisting of the Princess of Wales, Princess Louise and the Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, left Marlborough House for the Palace at 11:30 o'clock. The Princess of Wales, at 11:40 o'clock for Buckingham Palace. Notwithstanding the rain the route to the Palace was crowded with spectators. There was a vast concourse of people opposite the Palace. The Prince of Wales was enthusiastically cheered. On the arrival in the Bow Library of the Queen, who was accompanied by the Grand Duke of Hesse, the procession to the Chapel was formed. It consisted of the Princess of Wales, the Princess Victoria, the Princess Maud, the King of Greece, the Crown Prince of Denmark and other guests and officers of the Royal Household. The procession on its way to the Chapel passed through several Royal apartments, in which many of the guests who had found it impossible to enter the Chapel were seated. Upon reaching the Chapel the Queen was escorted to a seat prepared for her. The bride and the other august personages took seats on either side of the altar. The Earl of Life, who was attired in a Highland costume and wore the spurs of a knight, took his position at the altar rails and awaited the coming of his bride. The Princess of Wales, with the bride and Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales and members of the household arrived at the Palace just before noon. They were received by the Lord Steward and conducted to the Bow Library, where the bride was joined by the bridegroom. The bride wore a dress of white satin with a flowing train. It was trimmed with orange blossoms. She also wore a wreath of orange blossoms and pointed d'gaze veil. The bridegroom wore a dress of black broadcloth. The Princess of Wales was attired in pearl gray satin brocade with silver. Her Royal Highness also wore a train of diamonds. The bride and groom were then pronounced the Queen kissed the bride and cordially greeted the groom. After the wedding there were two breakfast parties in separate chambers in Buckingham Palace.

DETAILS OF WEST-VIRGINIA FLOOD.

People who Lost Their Lives—A Circus Outfit Entirely Ruined.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 27.—Further details of the disaster at Parkersburg, West Virginia, have been received. The brother of Thomas Hughes, whose wife and children were drowned Sunday, has arrived from Pittsburgh to assist in care of his brother, who is dying from injuries received. Thomas Hughes, who lived close to the Hughes family and who was drowned with his wife, had been recently married. A circus was showing on Tucker Creek when the cloud-burst and the flood struck the show just after the performance began and tore canvas and paraphernalia to atoms, utterly wrecking and ruining the whole concern, carrying off horses, wagons and tents. Miss D. Alma, a trapeze performer, was drowned. It is reported that some employees also lost their lives. The country where the misfortune occurred is still in such a state of confusion that it is impossible to get full particulars. Salsbury, on the Big Flat River, was virtually wiped out of existence.

They Are Absolutely Under Control of Chiefs—A Council Held Yesterday.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 27.—The first Council was held here yesterday afternoon. John Grass, Gaul and other prominent chiefs and a large number of Indians were present. After preliminary remarks King of the Indians introduced the commissioners. Governor Foster made the customary explanation of the act of Congress, and was followed by Major Warner. The Indians listened with reference to details. The Indians were thoroughly interested, and finally all the chiefs shook hands with evident good humor. The next Council will be held Monday.

English conversation with many persons more of less acquainted with the Indians it is believed that for some weeks they have been talking the matter over, and it is said they have bound themselves not to accept the Government's proposition. As at Chicago the police force is practically unanimous in opposition. Many of the employees are either mixed bloods, or men who have been for years incorporated in the tribe. All these men would be likely to refuse to give evidence in the case of the Indians. In spite of all efforts of the agents for years past the Indians are still in all matters affecting their general interests controlled by the wishes and advice of their chiefs. Many of them are men of more than average ability, industrious and progressive, and have for many years been successful farmers and it is very difficult to account for their evident determination to oppose the bill. The Commissioners are fully aware of the obstacles to be encountered.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., July 27.—When Chief Mays, of Cherokee Nation, was questioned as to the attitude of his people concerning the approaching conference with the United States Commissioners, he said: "The gentlemen will be treated with utmost courtesy, but if they come here to negotiate a sale of any portion of our land, they will find themselves in the hands of the Government. In the first place, the Cherokees don't want to sell to anybody, and in the second place their Constitution forbids any such transactions." General Mays, who is in charge of the negotiations, said that he had received several articles of impeachment against Mays ready to present to the next Council.

WHITE EARTH AGENCY, MINN., July 27.—It seems certain that the great White Earth reservation of Minnesota will not be opened this year. Commissioners Rice, Marly and Whiting are discouraged over the outlook. The Indians have taken a decided stand against opening any portion of the reservation to settlement. There have been several stormy meetings. The Commission has not secured a signature.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received a telegram from the Civil Agency in Stevens County, Washington Territory, stating that the Indians attached to the Colville Agency have burnt eight square miles of hay land and threaten the lives of settlers.

SUPPLY OF ALICE ALONG THE HUDSON.

What Officials who Have Made a Tour Along the River Say.

Officials of the large ice companies have been making a tour along the Hudson River inspecting ice houses. They say that the cool weather has largely decreased the demand for ice in New-York City and elsewhere.

From present indications there is ice enough in the houses to supply the prospective demand of this season. Very little ice, however, has been left in the Hudson River houses by November 1.
